Clean Marina Program

Hello everyone,

It's that time of the year again when we visit sections of the Clean Marina Program. This Newsletter is one aspect of compliance with the organization.

But first a quote. Will Rogers once said..."Never miss a good chance to shut up".

EMERGENCY RESPONSE

A number of situations may occur in a marina that require immediate response. Calling 911 may be appropriate in some instances, but additional staff, tradesperson and tenant responses may also be necessary in nearly every situation.

MARINA BEST MANAGEMENT PRACTICES

Holiday Harbor-Wilmington Marina has a formal Emergency Action Plan and maintains an Emergency Response manual which is accessible to Marina Maintenance and Marina Security. This manual provides a map of all electrical disconnects, water and gas shut-off valves and emergency telephone numbers for any situation that may arise. These numbers are kept up to date and Marina staff receives ongoing training for emergency procedures and responsibilities.

New employees are acquainted with the Emergency Response manual in detail.

TRADESPERSON BEST MANAGEMENT PRACTICES

1. Make sure the owner has the appropriate number of fire extinguishers onboard with current service tags in place.
2. Insure that engines and fluids have cooled adequately prior to initiation any maintenance to avoid burns.
3. Keep work areas on the boat clear of oil and debris.
4. Provide continuous ventilation in work areas, especially below decks.
